

At the Toulouse School of Economics, we are constantly engaged in creating and strengthening international partnerships with the best universities in the world.

Each year, many students leave to study for a degree (after a Bachelor's degree for a Master's degree) or a non-degree gap year (after a Bachelor's degree or a Master's degree - 6 months to 1 year).

International exchange programs are essential to motivate students to take a gap year abroad. The Toulouse School of Economics has recently established new partnerships in Austria, Spain, Italy, Bulgaria and Belgium, which complete the offer already made to its students.
